SIFE is an international non-profit organization active on over 1800 university campuses in more than 40 countries. SIFE Teams create economic opportunities in their communities by organizing outreach projects that teach: market economics, entrepreneurship, personal financial success skills and business ethics. Their projects are judged at competition on creativity, innovation and effectiveness.

During the school year, also the team's first full year, the Canisius College SIFE Team organized 15 projects in the Buffalo community, including a minority leadership conference for Buffalo City high school students, play dough economics for Buffalo City elementary students, aiding small businesses in start-up and growth, and a vendor market for local entrepreneurs. The team is supported by their faculty advisor, Dr. Patricia A. Hutton and a Business Advisory Board consisting of local business owners and managers of national corporations.
